EASTERN DATES TO MAY 1.

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

The Versailles Troops Making Progress.

LONDON, April 30.—The misunderstanding with the Prussians with regard to the operation of railways has been adjusted. The Communists propose to confiscate the property of the Northern Railway unless it resumes running passenger and provision trains into Paris.

A Masonic procession, half a mile in length, passed through the streets to day and planted their banners on the ramparts, under a heavy fire. All lodges of the Order in Paris were represented. Several Masons were wounded while on the walls.

Versaillists to the number of 12,000 have occupied Genevilliers.

The Nationals are making preparations to abandon the southern forts. Rumors of reverses to the Nationals in other quarters are current.

Batteries have been placed at the Orleans and Vanguard gates.

VERSAILLES, April 30.—The park, castle and cemetery of Issy were carried last night by the government forces. Eight cannon, a quantity of ammunition and one hundred prisoners fell into their hands. The advance came within twenty metres of Fort Issy, whose capture is momentarily expected.

Thiers granted an interview to delegates from the Masons in Paris, who arrived here last night. He told them the government desired to see an end to the civil war, but the Assembly could not negotiate in the presence of an armed insurrection. He referred them to the Commune for the restoration of order within the city of which it had usurped control.

VERSAILLES, April 29, Evening.—Thiers in a public circular gives a dispatch from Gen. Issy, announcing the success of the coup de main on Boomey Farm, in which thirty two insurgents were killed and wounded, and seventy five were taken prisoners. The same circular contains a dispatch from Gen. Barron, confirming the previous report of the success of the loyalists in front of Fort Issy. Cannonading continues. Twelve prisoners and twelve pieces were captured. The artillery has been brought to Versailles. It is reported that the Archbishop of Paris has been released.

The Northern Railroad Company has paid 3,000,000 francs to the Commune.

The French Contribution Paid.

BERLIN, April 29.—The Gazette announces that the French contribution for the support of German troops has been paid up to the 15th inst.

A Paris dispatch of Sunday says a sharp engagement occurred Saturday night at Les Moulineau in which the Versaillists were repulsed with a loss of 29 men made prisoners. A column of the enemy advanced on Clamart railway station, and occupied houses two hundred yards from the entrenchments of Issy. The fort was a wreck, casemates broken in, embrasures demolished, and thirty of its sixty guns dismounted and ammunition for mitrailleuses exhausted. The garrison became panic stricken, the gunners mutinied and spiked half of their remaining guns, and this morning before daylight, the entire garrison abandoned the fort. Its commandant, Gen. Negty, has arrived in the city.

Gen. Cluseret who went to the front at the first news of the desertion of troops, returned to day having failed to stop the panic. He has sent out a force of troops, among them the avengers of Paris to reoccupy the works and a desperate fight is now in progress in that quarter.

The Nationals on Saturday having pursued some chasseurs almost into St. Denis, the Prussians threatened to fire into the latter if they attempted to enter the town. The chasseurs made a detour and escaped.

PARIS, April 30.—The instalment of 500,000,000 francs has not been paid. The money has been offered payable by the government in 1886, with interest at six per cent, but the offer has not been accepted. Thiers says when Paris falls he can get better terms.

WASHINGTON CITY

WASHINGTON, April 30.—A decision is expected to be made by the Supreme Court to morrow sustaining the validity of gold contracts for the delivery of gold bullion on specified writings in gold coin money, and not to contracts calling merely for a certain number of dollars.

During May the Treasury will purchase $10,000,000 in bonds, and sell $8,000,000 in gold.

Mariscal, Mexican Minister, will leave this country for Mexico on the 8th of May to assume the office of Minister of Foreign Affairs. It is expected that Romero will resume his duties here as Minister of that Republic.

CURRENT NOTES

The Spring elections over in New Jersey have generally gone in favor of the Republicans. In Jersey City and Paterson that party swept the field for the first time for years.

The Texas Legislature has had a scene over a proposition to change the name of Davis County to Lincoln County. A compromise was finally made, and the county named Cass, in honor of Lewis Cass.

The Yale crew refuse to take part in a convention to arrange for a general university regatta, as proposed by Harvard, unless Harvard will give a square answer to the challenge sent it by Yale last December. When that is done, they will be ready to consider the other matter.

Some of the Northern Democratic papers, notably the Chicago Times, have expressed their disapproval of Jeff Davis' "lost cause" speech in Selma, Ala., and the Mobile Register takes them to task for thus abusing him, saying that "it neither hurts Davis nor helps the Democracy."

The Boston Traveler is authority for the statement that Dr. S. G. Howe, of the San Domingo Commission, comes back a strong advocate of annexation. On his return from San Domingo to Washington he was for some days a guest of Senator Sumner, and it is understood that the question of annexation was discussed by them in all its aspects, and that Mr. Sumner not only failed to convert his friend to his policy of opposition, but was forced to admit that there were arguments in favor of annexation which were unanswerable. Dr. Howe is of the opinion that the annexation of San Domingo would be advantageous, not only to that country and to the United States, but also to the people of Hayti. And he says that reports recently made public concerning the opposition of the Haytiens to the annexation of San Domingo are untrustworthy.

THE TERRITORIES

A petition is being circulated and largely signed, asking the Post Master General for a daily mail between Olympia and Port Townsend.

Seven preachers left Olympia together a few mornings ago. Wonder what is going to befall that town now? The exodus of so many good people looks threatening.

The Central Pacific Railroad Company have renewed their contract with Meigs & Gawley, of Port Madison, for this year's supply of piles and lumber for the Oakland Point wharf and for use on their road. This firm furnished the company with 11,000,000 feet last year.

The Secretary of the Treasury has appointed W. E. Boone, of Olympia, Superintendent of Construction of the Penitentiary for Washington Territory, to be erected at Steilacoom. It is said the money necessary has been appropriated and that the Superintendent has been notified that plans will soon be forwarded.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

THE CIVIL WAR IN FRANCE.

VERSAILLES, May 1.—Fort Issy displayed a flag of truce, and a party has gone to convey the government terms.

The disturbance at Lyons yesterday was quelled.

PARIS, May 1.—General Cluseret is dismissed from the office of Minister of War by the Commune and is replaced by M. Rossel.

The Cri du Peuple says that Cluseret has been arrested by order of the Executive Committee, with the approval of the Commune.

Gen. Lacecilia is in command of Fort Issy.

Gen. Ducrasster replaces Gen. Kalowitz, who was wounded.

There was cannonading and musketry fire near Neuilly all last night, but it is now slackened.

The Journal de Paris says the Versaillists have recaptured Genevilliers.

The firing last night was fearful, there being nothing to compare with it since the civil war began. The city is excited and alarmed. The people are standing in groups everywhere.

VERSAILLES, May 1.—Many troops have gone Parisward to-day.

Editors of moderate journals of Paris are ordered to be prosecuted for leaving the city.

Provincial elections everywhere are favorable to conservative Republicans.

A flag of truce summoned Fort Issy to capitulate yesterday. The garrison required time to deliberate. Negotiations were recommenced to day.

Republican candidates are elected from Hille.

NEW YORK, May 1.—A dispatch dated Paris last evening, says yesterday witnessed a grand scene at Champs Elysees on the departure of the Free Masons on a visit to Thiers. A vast crowd collected. Fire suddenly opened upon them, scattering the people in every direction. The Free Masons undeterred advanced and planted 120 flags, a flag for every lodge represented, on the ramparts. At 5 o'clock they reached the Versailles outposts bearing a banner "aimons nous les uns les autres." They were blindfolded and sent back with the exception of the President and two delegates. Their mission was unsuccessful.

At 10 o'clock this morning, Dombrowski warned the Versaillists that hostilities might commence hourly.

Forty thousand men are ready for fighting in Champs de Mars.

The Versaillists routed the Communists at Montineaux and drove them through Issy.

The Archbishop of Paris has been released.

Provision trains have all been stopped.

Three hundred Communists were taken prisoners and a number bayoneted.

VERSAILLES, April 30.—It is stated that Fort Issy is occupied by Government troops.

It is reported in Paris that a sister of Archbishop Darbiary, has been arrested and taken to the prison of St. Lazare.

The Daily Telegraph reports that the German troops have received an intimation that it is probable they will have to remain in France two years.

WASHINGTON CITY

Cabinet Rumors Again.

CHICAGO, May 1.—A Tribune's Washington correspondent telegraphs as follows: "Discredit having been thrown on the statement in these dispatches to the effect that Secretary Fish would resign about June 1st, it may be as well to affirm that the information came from the State Department in such a way as to place the fact beyond a doubt. The Secretary has already twice tendered his resignation, it being withdrawn in the last instance at the request of the President, with the distinct understanding that after the labors of the Joint High Commission shall be finished there shall be no further objections urged. As a personal favor, the Secretary has continued to occupy his present position up to this time, but will positively insist on going out the 1st of June no matter what action the Senate takes with regard to the treaty submitted by the Joint High Commission."

Edwin M. Stanton, a son of the late Secretary of War, has been appointed by Governor Drake Secretary of the Territory of the District of Columbia, vice General Chipman, elected to Congress.

A Defect in the Law.

WASHINGTON, May 1.—The general order of March 25th, by the Secretary of the Navy, reviewing the decision of court martial in the case of Paymaster Lockwood and others, for scandalous conduct and embezzlement, sets aside the sentence so far as related to fine and imprisonment because there was no law for the execution of the sentence. Mr. Lockwood, who defrauded Government out of about forty thousand dollars, is therefore set at liberty, being merely dismissed from service. The same course is pursued in the cases of Paymaster Generals Marcy and Washington.

CALIFORNIA

From San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—A Frenchman, aged 72 years, was found dead in bed this morning in Dupont Alley between Stockton and Dupont streets. It is supposed he committed suicide with poison.

Sailed—ship Comet, New York; bark Lieut. Maury, Valparaiso.

Arrived—ship Hague, 131 days from New York, mdse to Albert Dibblee; British ship Kenilworth Castle, 153 days from Liverpool, mdse to Dickson, DeWolf & Co.; Bark Kenilworth Castle, Utsalady, lumber to Peru.

Judge Stanley to-day announced that he would hereafter accept no lawyers, whatever their standing and financial ability might be, as sureties on bonds for parties arrested, giving lengthy reasons.

The firemen on the boats of the California Pacific Railroad Co., late C. S. N. Co., struck to day for an advance from $40 to $50 per month. The demand was refused and their places filled at the old rates, no boat being detained an hour.

The weather to day is the warmest of the season.

A convention of editors of medical journals met to-day, Dr. H. R. Storer, of Boston, President, and Henry Gibbons Jr., Secretary. Forty out of the forty three medical journals in the United States were represented in the Society. Dr. Davis offered a resolution to the effect that officers henceforward shall be the President, Vice President, Secretary, Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, and that the Assistant Secretary be appointed by the President annually, to reside at the place where the meeting of the Society is held.

Hutchinson, Kohl & Co. will put the steamer Constantine on the route from San Francisco to Portland as opposition on Saturday. Freight and fares at reduced rates.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

LOS ANGELES, May 1.—50,000 pounds of silver bullion was shipped from here to San Francisco on Saturday last. It was taken from Clarke District, and is said to assay $1,400 to the ton.

Seven men were poisoned at Oak Creek, near Tahocipacito, yesterday. Some beef was placed on a line and the men took it and ate it. One survived long enough to relate how the poison was administered, but the whole number were dead when the party left there bringing the information.

SUISUN, May 1.—There was an exciting municipal election in this place to day. The issue was incorporation or disincorporation. The corporation ticket was elected.

SANTA CRUZ, May 1.—At the town election to day the following officers were elected: Town Trustees—John Besse, J. J. Smith, R. C. Kirby; Town Collector—George Otto; Recorder—J. Wellington. The vote for Assessor resulted in a tie between M. W. Bennett and H. W. Pope.

GILROY, May 1.—The town election to day passed off quietly. The citizens elected the Marshal, County Clerk and two Councilmen, the Democrats elected the Treasurer and one Council man.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—Philip Hannovan, working in the California Planing Mill, corner of Howard and Spear streets, this afternoon was terribly injured by one of the blades of a rotary planer getting loose and striking him with tremendous force, cutting through the cheek bone and so deep into the face that he breathed through the orifice, injuring the left eye and cutting through the skull above the temple. He has a family at 33 Folsom street. He is still living but unconscious.

Richard L. Blackburg sues the Union Mutual Life Insurance Company for $25,000 damages for an alleged libel in an advertisement published in the Vallejo Chronicle cautioning the public not to deal further with him as agent for the company, as he had been discharged for a good cause.

Ike Brokawa, who shot Robert Evans for alleged intimacy with his wife, will apply for bail, though under indictment for murder. His defense is that he shot Evans in the leg, not intending to kill him, and that death ensued not as a necessary result, but through carelessness of the surgeon called to attend him.

The Police last month arrested 861 persons and provided 200 others with free lodgings in the calaboose.

Geo. Dougherty, contractor, who fired the blast on Bay street without notice, last week, whereby Jos. Mariani was killed, has been arrested and held to bail for manslaughter.

Two boys were allowed to leave the Industrial School on Saturday, on promise to return at 6 P. M., and Superintendent Pelton, to show his confidence in them, let them carry his gold watch with them. They have not yet returned, and he is becoming anxious for their safety.

Workmen engaged in cutting the new tunnel through the mountain on the west side of San Andreas valley, San Mateo county, to connect the new reservoir of San Andreas with the old one known as the Main Spring Valley Reservoir, have struck a subterranean stream estimated at 100 inches of pure water, which flows with such force as to drive the men all out of the tunnel. The officers are highly elated at this addition to their supply of water, which was running so low as to occasion serious anxiety.

THE SCHOOL ACCOUNTS.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE OF EXAMINATION.

To the Voters of School District No. 1, Multnomah county: The committee appointed at the public meeting held April, 1871, to examine the reports and accounts of the Director and Clerks of the District for the preceding three years, beg leave to report that a careful examination of the said reports and accounts, and of the books and papers on file, develops the following state of affairs:

1. That the report of B. Weeks, Clerk for 1870 and 1871, is correct, the receipts for taxes reported being found correct, and the disbursements charged therein verified by vouchers in proper form, and that the balance of cash on hand reported is correct. Mr. Weeks, however, has neglected to prepare a list of delinquent taxes, and appears to have failed to compare his receipts with the tax roll and verify the same as the amount appearing delinquent upon the assessment roll is $621 10, while the amount reported by him is only $474 77, indicating that he has failed to make all payments upon [illegible] neglect which should be corrected [illegible] annoyance to taxpayers and [illegible] his successor.

The Board of Directors for the [illegible] to have exercised proper supervision [illegible] affairs of the District.

2. That the report of D. [illegible] 1869 and 1870 [illegible] particular [illegible] minuteness of [illegible] such convenience [illegible] as to be highly [illegible] to [illegible] as well as furnishing an example [illegible] imitation by his successors.

The Board of Directors for this [illegible] to have exercised careful supervision [illegible] affairs of the District.

3. That the report of J. F. M[illegible] for year ending 5th April 1869—he having reported the amount [illegible] remaining uncollected as $435 19 when the amount appearing upon the assessment roll as unpaid was only $331 56¼, and from this should be deducted $10 50 collected by him for which receipts were exhibited, and which was included in the delinquent list—making the following result:

Amount taxes on assessment roll placed in McCoy's hands for collection		$11,8[illegible]
Amount taxes collected as per Report	$10,850 80
Amount taxes lost by over and double assessment as per Report	361 73
Amount taxes actually remaining delinquent	321 06¼	10
Which amount being deducted from amount of list, leaves a deficiency of		$[illegible]

And this deficiency is not accounted for in any manner.

A difference of $905 22 exists between the amount of cash reported by McCoy as remaining on hand 5th April, 1869, and the amount paid over to his successor, which can only be accounted for by suppositions. Mr. McCoy appears to have been paid a bill for services and incidentals, amounting to $1613 75, when by the most liberal construction of the law, customs and facts, we can only find him entitled to receive $728 75, to-wit: Commission of 5 per cent on collections $540, allowed him for taking census, $150, sundry bills claimed to have been paid, $38 75. A copy of said bill is hereunto attached, and marked "A."

A. P. Dennison, Director, is charged upon the books as having drawn from the school moneys the sum of $550, and allowing that he had paid sundry bills we find among the papers amounting in the aggregate to $238 24, there remains the sum of $311 76 not accounted for.

Among the charges in the Cash Book we find the following under date of June 11th, 1868, "James Terwilliger—purpose not mentioned $125," and upon inquiring into the nature of the transaction we find the following to be the facts in the case:

James Terwilliger and Thomas Stephens having offered to each donate a half acre of land to the School District for school purposes, A. P. Dennison, Chairman of the Board of Directors, about the month of June, 1868 went upon the ground to accept the donation and have the land set apart to the District, but not being satisfied with the piece of land selected by Terwilliger and Stephens he chose a piece lying entirely upon the land claim of James Terwilliger, and agreed with Mr. Terwilliger to give him one hundred and twenty five dollars for half an acre—Terwilliger giving half an acre as a donation and Thos. Stephens agreed to pay $100 toward the purchase of Terwilliger's land in lieu of the land he (Stephens) had offered to donate, but which had not been accepted. The sum of $125 was paid to Terwilliger out of the school moneys, as appears from the entry in the book above referred to.

On the 3d of July, 1868, Thos. Stephens paid to A. P. Dennison, Chairman of the Board of Directors, one hundred dollars in accordance with the agreement above stated, and the Committee are unable to find that said sum was ever accounted for or used for the benefit of the District. The Committee find upon the minutes of the first meeting of the Board of Directors, held April 14, 1868, the following resolution:

"Resolved, That Col. A. P. Dennison be and is hereby selected and appointed by this Board as permanent Chairman of the Board of Directors of said District for the ensuing year, and to whom all applications by persons to the Directors relative to the business connected with the schools, must be made and that he exercise a general superintendence over the affairs of said District, and further, that said A. P. Dennison is hereby authorized to issue orders upon the Clerk of said District for the payment of claims against the District, for amounts previously agreed upon by the Board and fixed by contract, and miscell[illegible] [illegible] counts."

Is it "Unconstitutional" to Protect the Citizen?

Day by day we are favored with learned discourses from Democratic editors and orators designed to prove that it is outrageously unconstitutional for the General Government to take action for the suppression of the Ku Klux In other words, the Republic has not a right to protect its citizens

What is the Constitution, and for what was it established? The preamble, the very opening words of that instrument, tell us that it was ordained by the people of the United States to "establish justice and insure domestic tranquility" Yet those who now step forward to expound the Constitution in the interest of the Ku Klux Klans declare that the Government has no power to establish this justice and insure this tranquility, though to secure these results the Constitution was especially and avowedly ordained This is of a piece with that logic which used to assert that it was "unconstitutional" for the Government to defend itself against the attacks of armed rebels.

The author of the anti Ku Klux bill, Mr Shellabarger of Ohio, in a speech in support of this most important and necessary measure, showed that the Courts have held that Congress is authorized to legislate, as this bill does, directly for the protection of persons against wrongs by other persons within States He instanced the fugitive slave clause, which has ever been held to authorize Congress to go within the States to punish persons for violating the rights of the owner of slaves Further, he showed that every one of the three clauses of the old Constitution, the clause as to fugitives from justice, fugitives from labor, and as to privileges of citizens in the several States, has, from the origin of the Government been enforced by direct affirmative legislation operating on persons in the States, and that the Courts have in every State, and unanimously in the Supreme Court for fifty years, sustained the constitutionality of Congressional legislation The fourteenth amendment is abundantly more explicit than these old personal clauses, in directing affirmative legislation to protect every citizen in the rights and immunities by United States citizenship

If the Government of the United States has no power to "establish justice and insure domestic tranquility" there is no need of having a Government "If," says Mr Shellabarger with truthful energy, "the United States must stand by a powerless spectator of the overthrow of the rights and liberties of its own citizens, then not only is the profusion of guards put by the fourteenth amendment around our rights a miserable waste of words, but the Government is itself a miserable sham, its citizenship a curse, and the Union not fit to be"

The argument a few years ago was that the Republic could not protect and defend itself, now the argument is that it cannot protect and defend and enforce the rights of its citizens

An Interesting Report.

We print this morning the report of the Committee appointed at the last school meeting in this city to examine the accounts of the officers of the District during the last three years. The committee content themselves simply with reporting the facts as they find them, and make no comments But the report cannot be called a flattering testimonial to the integrity of a former Clerk and one of the present Directors of the District It may safely be predicted that its publication will create a sensation And, unless we are greatly mistaken, there will be something very like indignation among people of old-fashioned notions who like to see the school funds honestly administered. The Herald boasted that the late school election was a "Democratic triumph." If the fruits of such Democratic triumphs" are such as this report indicates, a majority of our people will decide that the less we have of such "triumphs the better. It will now hardly be considered an encouraging fact for the District that one of the officers whose transactions are [illegible] this report has been re-elect[illegible] term of three years. We make no [illegible] comments for the present, but leave the report for those interested to consider for themselves.

At the municipal election at Oregon City yesterday the entire Republican ticket was successful. Democrats made a strong effort on some of their candidates, and boasted that they would elect them, but Oregon City never votes Democratic

Our Northwestern Boundary

We are glad to find an Eastern paper now and then which has a proper appreciation of the importance of the northwestern boundary question Therefore we gladly give place to the following from the New York Evening Mail

We trust that the American members of the [illegible] High Commission will not surrender the island of San Juan, in Puget Sound, or any part thereof, to the British Government The island itself is of very little present value, but it is very important that the whole of [illegible] should be under our flag, and that the boundary line should be so run as to give our great Northern Pacific Railroad a good route on American soil and a terminus controlled wholly by us. By the old treaty the line ran along the forty-ninth parallel of latitude. Under this treaty the southern half of Vancouver's Island would have belonged to us, while the whole of the island of San Juan and sixty miles to the north of it were included in our territory

These advantages Mr Webster very amiably gave up to the English Government in the famous Ashburton Treaty At that time no visions of a Pacific Railroad or of our marvelous development on the Pacific coast had dawned even on the majestic intellect of our great statesman, or if they had they made no deep impression Besides, he was bargaining for his own day and generation and wanted to get the most substantial present advantage, trusting, perhaps, to "manifest destiny" to work out the problem on our Western coast. But the situation has bravely changed since then. The Northeastern boundary is of little if any greater importance now than it was then, while the whole nation has a deep interest in the construction of a great continental railway along our North-western borders. Shall its terminus on the Pacific be under the control of British guns? Must its western division pass over British soil?

If the English Commissioners do not want to start another cry of "Forty-nine forty or fight," they will concede what is of such vital importance to us and of so little consequence to England. And if the American Commissioners want to stand well with their countrymen hereafter they will concede some other point rather than one that is of such growing importance as that to which we have alluded.

A very useful discovery has been made near Iowa City, being nothing more nor less than a mine of soap The substance is said to be a mineral, but to have all the useful qualities of the manufactured article

Suggestions from Travelers to the East

PORTLAND Ogn, April 29, 1871

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

SIR In the summer of 1869 a party of gentlemen crossed the Columbia plains over to Lake Pen d' Oreille, up Clarke's Fork to its sources, and over the Rocky Mountains, under the guidance of an experienced man, who was quite familiar with the entire route A letter just received from this admirable guide mentions that he has settled down as a farmer at the Horse Plains, in Montana Territory, where he has some cows, a good crop in and enjoys good health But my reason for desiring to notice this letter from J W Patrick the guide referred to is that he has in it something in which the traveling public are interested He says he has a good train of pack mules and horses, and three sons engaged in the business of packing He has saddles and bridles also for any party wishing to take the trip across the country He says he can furnish a party with horses saddles, etc, at Lake Pen d' Oreille in two days from the time he gets notice, and that they would have only twenty five miles of horseback riding from Horse Plains to Cedar Creek, where they can take a daily stage to Helena and that, if they choose they can go from Walla Walla to Lake Pen d' Oreille by carriage, so that in that way travelers or tourists can go from Portland, via Lake Pen d' Oreille and Helena, to New York with only three days of horseback riding, and see a great deal of a very interesting country

Mr Patrick is a reliable man and I have no doubt that his statements are correct His letter is dated Horse Plains Montana Territory, April 16 By giving this publicity you may benefit a worthy pioneer and the public too Respectfully yours, R

SIR I see in your issue of the 21st a letter from "Yamhill," in which the writer intimates that Spencer, an Indian Chief of this Reservation, put up the Indians to do what justly gives them a home in the State's Prison. THE GREAT CAÑON OF THE YELLOWSTONE. The Great Falls are at the head of one of the most remarkable cañons in the world—a gorge through volcanic rocks fifty miles long, and varying from 1,000 to nearly 2 000 feet in depth In its descent through this wonderful chasm, the river falls almost 3,000 feet At one point, where the passage has been worn through the mountain range, our hunters assured us it was more than a vertical mile in depth; and the river, broken into rapids and cascades, appeared no wider than a ribbon The brain reels as we gaze into this profound and solemn solitude We shrink from the dizzy verge appalled, glad to feel the solid earth under our feet, and venture no more, except with forms extended, and faces barely protruding over the edge of the precipice The stillness is horrible Down, down, down, we see the river attenuated to a thread, tossing its miniature waves, and dashing with puny strength, the massive walls which imprison it. All access to its margin is denied and the dark gray rocks hold it in dismal shadow Even the voice of its waters in their convulsive agony cannot be heard Uncheered by plant or shrub, obstructed with massive boulders and by jutting points, it rushes madly on its solitary course, deeper and deeper into the bowels of the rocky firmament The solemn grandeur of the scene surpasses description. It must be seen to be felt The sense of danger with which it impresses you is harrowing in the extreme You feel the absence of sound, the oppression of absolute silence If you could only hear that gurgling river if you could see a living tree in the depth beneath you, if a bird would fly past, if the wind would move any object in the awful chasm, to break for a moment the solemn silence that reigns there, it would relieve that tension of the nerves which the scene has excited, and you would rise from your prostrate condition and thank God that he had permitted you to gaze, unharmed upon this majestic display of natural architecture As it is, sympathizing in spirit with the deep gloom of the scene, you crawl from the dreadful verge, scared lest the firm rock give way beneath, and precipitate you into the horrid gulf —By N P Langford, in Scribner's for May

Another scheme of Tammany to influence the colored vote of New York is the establishment of a colored regiment in that city, to be called the Griffin Excelsior Guards, which is to be supported and to be under the management of the Ring The organization owes its name to Mr George H Griffin, who took part in the Fenian celebration, and who is the cherished friend of Boss Tweed, the Mayor and other leading lights of Tammany Francis A Pendoyer has been appointed Drum Major to the regiment. Is he a relative to the editor of the Oregon Herald? The trouble is the colored men have too much self respect to become Tammany's tools; hence the regiment only numbers twenty five men, of whom twenty are officers

It costs $1,200 to eject a colored passenger from a railroad train in Virginia That is the sum which the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company agreed to pay a colored individual who claimed damages on the ground that he was forcibly ejected from a first-class car, solely on account of color, notwithstanding he had a first-class ticket

Among the curious articles on exhibition at the French Fair in Boston, is the death warrant of one of the Salem witches The Sheriff at first wrote that he hung her until she was dead and buried but a subsequent pen stroke erased the last words, and perhaps softened a little this remarkable stroke of justice

Ohio has 4,164,275 miles of railroad track The total number of persons employed in operating the roads in the State is 21,895 The number of persons killed on the several roads during the last year was 120, and the number injured 204.

The body of a drayman who died in Atlanta, Ga a few days ago, was followed to the grave by his fellow workmen with a long procession of empty drays

At the St Patrick's Day celebration in Lexington, Ky, the line sported the green flag of Erin and the Star Spangled Banner, and the band played "Dixie."

All bitters have a heating tendency or effect, said a doctor to a young lady "You will except a bitter cold morning, won't you?" inquired the Lady.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and some corrections made, when it was announced that the report of the Committee appointed at the last meeting to examine and report on the accounts of the District for the last three years would be received.

Mr. Backensto from the Committee read the report, which was ordered to be received and the Committee discharged. (The report appears elsewhere in this issue of the OREGONIAN.—REPORTER.)

Mr. Dennison, on the part of the Directors to whom the duty of making inquiry in regard to the purchase of a block for school purposes in Caruthers' Addition, reported that block 26 could be purchased of H. B. Oatman for $6,000 coin, including the house now situated upon it, or for $5,500 without the house.

On motion it was ordered that the Directors be authorized to purchase the block at the latter figure.

A long discussion arose as to the method of providing funds to meet this payment. Finally it was voted that the Clerk of the District, by and with the advice and consent of the Directors, be authorized to borrow in the name of the District such sum, not exceeding $5,500 as might be sufficient (in addition to the sums now on hand) to provide for the current expenses of the schools and pay for the block which had been ordered to be purchased.

To meet this additional charge a further levy of one mill on the dollar on the taxable property of the District was ordered, making the levy for the present year three and a-half mills. It was estimated that this levy would produce $21,000, and that the amount to be received from the country would be about $11,000 more, which several gentlemen who spoke deemed adequate to meet the expense of maintaining the schools, including the expense of purchasing block 26 and enlarging the Harrison street school house.

On motion of Mr. Schuyler, it was ordered that suit be commenced in the name of the District against J. F. McCoy, late School Clerk, on his bond for the recovery of money due from him to the District, as shown by the Committee on accounts.

Mr. Dennison arose to make an explanation in regard to his conduct as Director during his former term of office. His remarks were apologetic and exculpatory, but did not tend to clear up or meet the findings of the Committee which showed him delinquent to the District. He did not allude to the principal matter that needed explanation in his conduct and cleared up nothing.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

AMUSEMENTS.

THIRD GAME OF THE BILLIARD TOURNAMENT.—There was a better house last night to witness the third game of billiards between Messrs. Rudolphe and Dion, showing the good judgment of the proprietors in securing the Theater for the exhibition. The attendance of ladies was much larger than on either of the previous nights. The table was situated upon a low platform in the orchestra space, thus affording an excellent view from all parts of the house, and from the stage, which was occupied by a considerable number of ladies and gentlemen.

Mr. Hughes, of the house of Phelan & Collander, billiard table manufacturers, introduced the distinguished players, and announced the games and exercises for the evening. The first game was the French 3-ball carom game for 100 points. Dion played first and made the following score of twenty-four innings: 4, 0, 2, 4, 4, 7, 1, 0, 1, 3, 21, 0, 3, 8, 3, 1, 1, 1, 11, 5, 6, 1, 1, 7; total, 100. Mr. Rudolphe's score was 0, 4, 16, 3, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1, 0, 3, 1, 0, 2, 5, 1, 0, 0, 0, 0, 1; total, twenty-three innings, 38. He played in what is called "hard luck," and displayed less coolness and care than on the previous evenings.

The second game was the American 4-ball carom, 500 points. Rudolphe took the first shot and made the following score of four innings; 87, 60, 111, 27; total, 285. Dion made a score of 66, 33, 81, 321; total, 501—thus being the winner in six straight games. Mr. Rudolphe then concluded the entertainment with an exhibition of his fancy shots. The last exhibition will take place at the Theater, this evening. Those who have not witnessed the playing of these champions should make it a point to attend to-night.

MINNIE PIXLEY'S BENEFIT.—The bill for the benefit of Miss Minnie Pixley is announced this morning. The entertainment will open with the drama of "Time Tries All," in which the beneficiary will personate Tom Tact, and Miss Annie, Laura Leeson, supported by Miss Ingles, Sam. Dennis and others. This will be followed by songs and dances by the sisters, the entertainment to conclude with the farce of Family Jars—Miss Minnie as Diggory and Miss Annie as Liddy Larrigan. The bill is a fine one, and the beneficiary deserves a good house.

MAGIC BY BOSCO.—Mr. Carl Bosco, the prince of magicians, has engaged the Theater for Friday and Saturday evenings, and will give entertainments on those evenings, and also at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. He will introduce on those occasions a number of entirely new tricks and illusions, among them an astonishing magical transmogrification, in which Miss Annie Pixley will appear and disappear in such a manner as to mystify the acutest observer. The programme will appear to-morrow. This will be Mr. Bosco's last appearance, as he intends to take farewell of the profession.

BILLIARD MATINEE.—A matinee will be held this afternoon at two o'clock, at the Oro Fino Theater, by Messrs. Rudolphe and Dion, at which, by request of friends, Mr. Dion will exhibit some of his fancy shots. In the evening a purse of $500, put up by friends of both the players, will be played for. The game will be the four ball carom of 1000 points.

A FRIENDLY CALL, AND WHAT WAS SAID.—It is human nature to tell our friends of our ailments. We all do it, expecting sympathy. Sympathy is a great comfort to invalids. When we have recovered, too, we are fond of talking of the medicines that relieved us. This is a good trait in our humanity. It shows we are grateful for benefits received.

The other day Mrs. E. Sutcliff, the well known teacher of crayon painting, whose atelier is in Court street, Brooklyn, was visited by a lady pupil, who had been absent from her class nearly a month. "What has been the matter?" said Mrs. S., "Have you been sick?" "Very," was the reply. "What complaint?" "Dyspepsia. I thought I should have died." "Ah! and what did the doctors do for you, my dear?" said Mrs. S. "Nothing," responded the young lady. "A gentleman friend," she continued, with a tell-tale blush, "induced me to try PLANTATION BITTERS, and you see the result; I am perfectly well!" This conversation occurred in Mrs. Sutcliff's studio; and it is here given as she relates it, word for word.

"Caved"—A Miner's Story.

[From the Southern Magazine for January.]

"It's caved!" exclaimed Bill Beave, bursting into the cabin where I was leisurely eating breakfast and reading the news from some last year's papers that were pasted on the wall. "The ground has caved! It came down might sudden; and Little Jimmy was at the breast. I was further on in the drift, and had the start of it; but it made such a close call for me, that I know he must'a got ketched."

This technical jargon revealed to me the fact that our mine had caved, and had buried one of our companions, for "Little Jimmy" was not an infant, but a man—a miner and a friend. He had been working at the "breast" or farthest end of the "drift," but was now perhaps sleeping his last sleep in the bosom of the mother of us all.

Three years before this we had come to this [illegible]. We had prospected the "side gulches" [illegible], and found "colors" everywhere. [illegible] were favorable, so we "staked" a [illegible] of ground along the main creek, built [illegible], organized a company, of which the [illegible] was elected president, and went to [illegible] to open our claim.

[illegible] three years had been years of toil [illegible]. We were in the heart of the [illegible] Mountains. Our camp was pitched in [illegible] of a valley, warm and sunshiny, [illegible] at the entrance of a deep and gloomy [illegible] which we named "The Devil's Gate," [illegible] which our sparkling little stream [illegible] and tumbled down to that great river, the Missouri. Our ground was deep and very [illegible] drainage was necessary, and we had [illegible] a tunnel for this purpose through the earth and boulders that filled the primeval bed of the creek, until we had attained a horizontal distance of a thousand yards; but the [illegible] of the gulch was so gradual that we [illegible] not reached the "bed rock" where we [illegible] to find the gold laid in heaps. "Bed-rock" being the objective point, must be reached, so we sank a shaft at the head of our [illegible] and betook ourselves to a pump.

[illegible] was a couple thousand miles to the nearest foundry, and we could not afford to await the completion of the North Pacific Railroad, a pump under the circumstances was a problem so I will tell how we got one. We had blacksmith's and carpenter's tools which most of us could use; there was plenty of timber growing on the mountains, and a pair of dilapidated freight wagons supplied our stock of iron. Great slabs or segments were cut from fir-trees, and hewn and dressed on one side to a smooth plane. The other side was rounded to an arc or convex surface, so that when four such segments were placed together lengthwise secured with pins at the edges, which were [illegible] squared and then made parallel, they formed a long hollow trunk or barrel, four-square within, but outside cylindrical, and tapering slightly from one end to the other. Upon this were driven hoops or bands of iron which forced the joints close like those of a cask, and thus we had pumps or pipes of considerable length and solidity. It was easy to fit them with valves and pistons, and to work them with a wooden walking-beam moved by the crank of a water wheel. This crank was a master-piece. It had arms of average of two feet, and was formed from the iron axle of one of our wagons, and its gudgeons or bearings were turned in a lathe of our own contriving. This was a heavy job for our resources, but it was finished after an age [it seemed to us] of toil, puzzling, and perspiration; and we had produced machinery that was capable of raising to a height of nearly thirty feet many tons of water per day, and which answered all our requirement for drainage so that we were able to reach that long sought "bed-rock" at a depth of ninety feet below the present bed of the creek. I will mention here that our pump was twelve inches square inside, and had a stroke of four feet, raising the water twenty-nine feet into our drain-tunnel, which led it out to the surface a thousand yards down the canon.

We had reached "bed-rock" but had not struck it very rich " and were running a drift [illegible] on "bed-rock" across and up the gulch in search of the "pay-streak" which we were hoping every day to find, when the announcement of the startling accident was made. Here was the ruin of our hopes and the death of our friend, for there was little room to hope for any other result.

It must not be supposed that much time was wasted in such reflections, for telling Bill to [illegible] the entire camp, I rushed off to the [illegible]. Such of the men as had heard of the occurrence hurried from their work, bringing with them their picks and shovels as likely to be needed and the miners from wet diggings came clad in coats, high boots, and helmet-shaped caps of India rubber, and looking like knights in armor. Knights they were too, for that matter, for though armed only with shovel and pick, they were as daring and as generous as ever belted prince who rode with lance in rest to right imaginary wrongs, and they were ready now to risk every danger to save the poor fellow buried in the mine beneath

On reaching the scene I found our machinery apparently uninjured, but looking more closely I discovered that the pump was raising not a drop of water and it would not be long before the entire mine would be flooded. The pump must be relieved at once or we could not hope to save the mine, much less to save our [illegible]. Calling Bob Piper, a tall blacksmith, a [illegible], who had worked at his trade in every mining country, from the English Channel to the Pacific Ocean, and who, for his skill, courage, and experience was the mining oracle of our camp—I pointed him to the pump which was wearing itself out in vain for a lifted of water.

"Bob," said I "we must fix that pump. It is our only hope to save little Jimmy."

"We'll fix it," replied Bob quietly. "The pump is starved—choked up at the bottom. We'll fix it and as for the poor lad we'll get un out."

Bob was a West of England man, and his dialect stuck to him.

"We'll get un out, Benny; I think he bean't dead. I've helped dig men out in the old country and this too; an' God help us, we'll get un out, won't us, Benny?"

Benny, thus appealed to, answered with an emphatic "You bet," and in a moment he and Bob followed by two others, were clambering down the steep and slippery flight of ladders that led into the mine, until their candles, glimmering like stars, were one by one swallowed up in the black shaft. Axes had been sent down in a bucket, and in a few moments were heard blows ringing on the mass of wood and iron that composed the barrel of the pump. They were cutting holes to let the water into the pump below. It had already risen above their waists, and the mouth of the lowest drift was nearly submerged.

The machinery was cracking and groaning and the wheel dashed round, but it was idle [illegible] and the mine was filling up and soon the men would be driven out; but meantime we could hear the blows of the axes. Presently the clumsy walking beam quit groaning, stood still and began to tremble. The wheel had stopped for a moment, then began to move slowly and went round with a surge. There was a great rush of water through the pump and it was all right. Our old wooden pump was equal to the occasion. The flood gates were opened on the great overshot wheel, and it was required to do its best. It rushed around steadily, and in an hour the mine was free from water, so that men could press into the drift.

It was arranged that if little Jimmy were [illegible] alive, the fact should be telegraphed aloft by two strokes of the signal bell; but if dead one tap should announce it. Men were working underground as only such men would work. They had been told off into gangs of four every fifteen minutes; and as they advanced into the avalanche of rock and earth that filled the drift, every inch had to be propped with heavy timbers, for the vast mass above them had been shaken and had lost its cohesion, and at any moment might [illegible] down like a mountain.

Presently, to those who waited above, there came a sharp peal of the bell—then another—He was alive! What a shout went up from the men assembled there! Out of the depths of that canyon, above the cliffs and crags, and over the trees that waved on their summits, and above the mountains that towered beyond—far above them all it rose like incense. It ascended into heaven; for it was a prayer—a prayer of thanksgiving and praise. Not formed of speech, not framed in language, but the overflowing of the heart that cannot be uttered in words.

My story is done. Little Jimmy had been overwhelmed with an avalanche, his candles extinguished, and he dashed down with his face to the earth; but the rocks and timbers had formed an arch over him. He was borne down to the earth, and the water had risen round him; and resting his elbow on the ground, he was just able to support his head above it. In a little while he would have drowned where he lay; but he was safe now. Strong hands had dragged him out of the grave. They had harnessed themselves to the "horse whim" and had hoisted him into the glorious sunshine. They bore him to his cabin, and placed him in the tender care of "Doc." Here we will leave him.

The three drinking saloons in our little camp proclaimed open doors and free whisky for the rest of that day; and as the boys were about to take a drink, Bob Piper asked leave to offer a sentiment. "Gentlemen," said he, "I told you we'd git un out, if so be as God would help us." "You bet!" was the applauding and emphatic response.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870.

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned:

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd-numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands co-terminus with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract on an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government: The party can leave the land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is saved the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES,
